Star that bringest home the bee, And sett'st the weary laborer free! If any s ar shed peace, 'tis thou. That send'st it from above-Appearing when Heaven's breath and brow Are sweet as her's we love.

Come to the luxuriant skies, Whilst the landscape's odors rise. Whilst far-off lowing herds are heard, And songs, when toil is done, From cottages whose smoke unstirr'd Curls yellow in the sun.

Star of love's soft interviews, Parted lovers on thee muse; Their remembrancer in Heaven Of thrilling vows thou art, Too delicious to be riven By absence from the heart.

Vitriol and Religion.

It is said that the miscreant, Theodore H. Gray, arrested for throwing vitriol on the dresses of ladies, has confessed. The New York Herald says

The prisoner, who is a man of high standing in the community wherein he is known, admitted the commission of these malicious acts. and g ve as an excuse for his crime, that he had become quite deranged on the matter of spoiling ladies' dresses. That he took a pleasure at first in the dangerous amusement and after some little practice it became so very enchanting that he performed the operation almost nightly, principally at the theatres and other places of public amusement.

He usually took his stand in Broadway, or near the doors of theatres, and in the most adroit manner contrived unperceived to throw the acid upon those p rsons whom he thought proper subjects for his skill and amusement. The ins rument used by him in the execution of his maticious work, is now in the hands of the Chief of Police.

The same paper adds: "It is said he is laboring under religious insanity." We have had a good deal of vitriol mixed with religion lately, and fanatics have mounted the pulpit to equire their corrosive acid upon the garments of those of their congregations who dared to hold epinions adverse to them in But the plea of insanity is no defence in their case, or in that of the street apostle who follows out their rancerous example. It is the ordinary depravity of human nature, and not its derangement, that is to blame for it. Like his brother-pulpiteers, he was originally moved to his bad career by the hope of " benefiting the community" as a moral reformer. lie confesses:

"I have been throwing this vitriol since about the 1st of November instant, as near as I can remember. I first commenced throwing it on women of bad character, thinking it would benefithe community. After a short time I was unable to distinguish the 'good' from the 'bad,' and I further state that all the Bress Caps, silk and thread Il usions vitrio I did throw was in Broadway, near the Braids, Gimps, Buttons Stockings places of amusement." It seems that he lost money on a Know

These drops are composed of six simple ingredients, principally of herbs, which are known to be very efficacious in the cure of diseases resulting from colds. They have been prepared at the suggestion of one of our most eminent physicians, and have been used by many of his and my personal iends with signal success, and at whose earnest solicitation I have been induced to enter largely into heir manufacture; assured by him and them that when seperally known and tried, they will supercede all the various cough can y mixtures n w in

As for myself, I am confident, from the ingredi ents of which they are composed, that, should they not effect on entire cure, they can do no injury even to the most delicate in health, and therefore have no hesitancy in introducing them to the citizens of Washington and vicinity.
